WHEN WILL THE LEAF TOBACCO MARKET OPEN?

Warehousemen Worried Over the Attitude of the Buyers, Who Say They Will Be Here the First of the Year.

Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehousemen in this city are much put out over the prospects of the opening of the market in this city this season.

To use a familiar expression, "There is a world of tobacco this year in this section," and the fact that the prospects are not overly bright for the opening of the market here before the first of the year has set them on the anxious seat.

Last week letters were received here from the big buyers stating that they would not be on this market before the first week in January, 1919, which caused a big protest to be forwarded to them from the Maysville Tobacco Association.

The association called their attention to the fact that the market in Lexington was scheduled to open on December 3, and asked why that market should be favored with a month's sales before this one. There is just as good quality of burley sold on this market as there is at Lexington or anywhere else, and just why the buyers should want to give this market a decided disadvantage over Lexington cannot be explained, as the big wigs are treated as well here as they are at any place on the earth, given the same class of entertainment, the same class or better of tobacco and as this is the place where the most of them found the burley tobacco in quantities to make them a sufficient guarantee on their investment if there are any favors to be shown the warehousemen here think they should have them.

It may be that the buyers will change their decision and come here before the first of next year.

Warehousemen are now busy trying to recruit their crews to handle the crops as soon as the market opens, and if they are to be handicapped by this late opening it will be extremely hard to get any labor at all, as it will be employed in other fields by that time, and if such be the case one can readily see the plight the houses here will be in. Most all of the houses are being put in working condition, and it is hoped the buyers will open here the same time they do elsewhere, as it is as much to their advantage as it is the warehouses.

As the growers have made arrangements to settle their obligations to those merchants who have always been glad to carry them, and these obligations have been arranged for by the January 1st, the delay of a month's opening means a month's delay in settling these obligations, which will be embarrassing to the farmers and merchants. And then a large number have bought Liberty Bonds, War Stamps on the same conditions, all of which means further delay to all parties concerned. It is understood the buyers claim the influenza epidemic has caused this delay on their part, something of course, over which they had nothing to do with, claiming that all markets would be treated alike by them—that is, they would have their buyers on all at the same time. As the draft has been recalled, things look a little better for securing the necessary help from that source.

Not very much of this year's crop has been sold to speculators as yet, but if the market is not to open before the first of the year it is thought a great deal will get into outside hands, and if this be the case, and the demand for the weed becomes very strong, as it now seems very likely, those needing it will have to pay for it and pay dearly, too, as those who buy and hold for more money can afford to hold and will hold until they get their price, thus forcing the manufacturers to pay much higher prices than the tobacco is really worth.

NO ACCIDENTS REPORTED

During the jollification yesterday in this city, participated in by practically every man, woman and child in this vicinity, there have been no accidents worthy of mention reported. As the promiscuous use of firearms was a certainty early in the day, Chief Ort issued instructions to ammunition dealers not to sell loaded cartridges to any one, but before the run-out happened with a large number of those who were firing pistols they must have had an inexhaustible supply of loaded cartridges, as any number of balls were flying around, several telephone wires being severed and people being struck, but no accidents of any kind to amount to anything happened. This was a very remarkable thing.

At the second annual sale of Short-horns at Tattersalls, Lexington, S. B. Andrews of Flemings, bought a heifer for $105, and E. B. Scott of Aberdeen, bought two cows for $135, and $120, respectively. There were 102 cattle sold, bringing $21,490.

AUSTRIAN EMPEROR HAS ABDICATED

Private Advice to Copenhagen From Austrian Capital Tell of His Leaving the Throne.

London, November 12—Emperor Charles of Austria has abdicated, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company.

It is reported that a general strike will be declared in Vienna tomorrow. Victor Adler, leader of the Austrian Socialists and foreign secretary in the German Austrian cabinet formed at Vienna on October 31, is dead, it is reported.

Emperor Charles is reported to have abdicated and to have taken refuge in an isolated castle. The throne has been tottering ever since the collapse of the Austrian army on the Italian front. Emperor Charles has occupied the throne but two years. Charles is a son of the late Franz Josef. He is believed to be "the last of the Hapsburgs."

The abdication of Emperor Charles has been rumored several times in the last two weeks, but none of these reports has been confirmed. On October 29 it was reported that he had fled from Vienna, but this report was denied by a Berlin newspaper which said he was at the Austrian capital on October 30, and that he had been cordially received by the people when going about the city. The most recent report in connection with Emperor Charles was received on November 2, when it was said that he had announced his intention to abdicate.

German Revolutionary Council Rebels Against Armistice

London, November 12—German sailors are summoned "to defend the country," in a wireless sent out by the German Revolutionary Council, signed by the "Command and Sailors' Council," which has its headquarters on the German battleship Strassburg. The order reads:

"To all ships, destroyers and submarines in the North Sea and Baltic: 'The enemy terms are unjust. The blockade of the German people, in defiance of international law, continues. German comrades, defend your country against such unheard-of presumption! A strong English force is off Skaw. 'All submarines in the Baltic are to assemble immediately in the harbor of Sassnitz.'"

German Crown Prince Reported Shot

London, November 12—According to an Amsterdam dispatch to the Central News, the former German crown prince is reported to have been shot.

Heligoland Seized By Revolutionists

Amsterdam, November 12—The entire German northern fleet and the island base of Heligoland are in the hands of soldiers' councils, according to a telegram from Bremen. Koenigsberg, Frankfurt-on-Main and Strassburg now are controlled by the soviets. It is reported officially that there are no disorders.

London, November 12—The time given for the evacuation of the left bank of the Rhine by the German forces has been extended 24 hours. The armistice terms are amended further by a provision that if the mutiny of German naval forces prevents the handing over of the naval forces specified, the Allies will have the right to occupy Heligoland in order to enforce the terms.

Hindenburg With New Government

Amsterdam, November 12—Field Marshal Von Hindenburg is not in Holland, according to a telegram from the semi-official Wolff bureau of Berlin. He remains at main headquarters and adheres to the new government. The telegram adds that Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, commander of the German northern army group, has not fled, as some reports have declared.

MUST FILL OUT QUESTIONNAIRES

All youths of 18 years who registered on September 12, last, will have to fill out questionnaires, which are to be sent to them by local draft boards at once. Instructions to that effect are being sent out by Provost Marshal General Crowder. No questionnaires are to be sent to registrants beyond the age of 36 years. The boards are directed to complete the classification of registrants between the ages of 18 and 36 years, inclusive, as early as possible.

MANY RELATIVES HERE

Mrs. John Brown, who had numerous relatives in this city and county, died at her home in Oakland, Calif., November 2, after a short illness. She is survived by four young children, her husband having died about seven years ago.

AMERICAN "LONESOME" WITH WAR NOISES GONE

Roar of Big Guns Missing for First Time on Sedan Front.

With the American Army on the Sedan Front, November 12—All was quiet on the battle-front today. For the first time since the army took up its position on this line the roar of big guns is not heard. The troops were lonesome without the noise, they said.

"What will we do when we get back home," they asked each other. "Live near a railroad yard," was one reply.

DOUBLE FUNERAL

Miss Maude O'Cull, aged about 20, died at her home in Mt. Olivet yesterday of pneumonia. The funeral of her sister, Mrs. Mary O. Starrett, who died Sunday was held at the same time today as her sister's, the burial being in the O'Cull burying ground. They were the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Cull.

TOO MUCH FLU YET

Owing to the reports from sections of the county that the influenza had not abated sufficiently to warrant the raising of the epidemic ban, things will stay closed until other things get better. The Board of Health will hold another meeting at the call of the chairman.

DEATH OF J. S. PERKINS

Mr. J. S. Perkins died at the home of A. O. Clary, his brother-in-law, near Epworth, Monday morning. He is survived by one brother and two sisters. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at Olivet cemetery.

Those who insist upon turkey for Thanksgiving may expect to pay prices for them. Many persons engage in buying turkeys only at this time, and Allen R. Carter, chairman of the Poultry and Egg Division, Kentucky Food Administration has issued a warning that all persons buying fowls to sell other than consumers must have a poultry and egg license or act as an employee of a licensed buyer.

A report from 46 counties of Kentucky on the wheat campaign shows an acreage 386,160 planted this year an increase of 59 per cent. for the State over the 1917 acreage which was 242,171 acres. The number of farmers interested enough help in the magnificent work was 17,285.

Mrs. James Gullfoyle, aged 32, died at her home near North Fork Creek, after an illness of some time of a complication of diseases. She is survived by her husband and four children. Her remains were buried in the Catholic cemetery at Washington.

Miss Cora Ort of Washington, D. C. is here on a visit to her brother, Chief of Police Harry A. Ort. She will leave in a short time for France, where she goes as an accountant, and will probably stay until things are further over there again.

Sheriff Galbreath and Deputy, Carey M. Devore, delivered Buck Green to the warden of the Frankfort penitentiary Monday, to serve one year for "hissing" chickens.

THE BITTER DOSE GERMANY MUST SWALLOW

Drastic Terms of the Armistice That Must Be Complied With—Germany Is Stripped of Power.

Washington, November 11—The strictly military terms of the armistice include the evacuation of all invaded territories, the withdrawal of the German troops from the left bank of the Rhine and the surrender of all supplies of war.

They also provide for the abandonment by Germany of the treaties of Bucharest and Brest-Litovsk.

The naval terms provide for the surrender of 160 submarines, 50 destroyers, 6 battle cruisers, 10 battle ships, 8 light cruisers and other miscellaneous ships.

Besides the surrender of the submarines, it is required that all others shall have their crews paid off, put out of commission and placed under the supervision of the allied and American naval forces.

All allied vessels in German hands are to be surrendered, and Germany is to notify neutrals that they are free to trade on the seas with the allied countries.

Among the financial terms included are restitution for damages done by the German armies; restitution of the cash taken from the National Bank of Belgium and return of gold taken from Russia and Roumania.

The military terms include the surrender of 5,000 guns, half field and half light artillery; 30,000 machine guns, 3,000 flame throwers and 2,000 airplanes.

The surrender of 5,000 locomotives, 50,000 wagons, 10,000 motor lorries, the railways of Alsace-Lorraine for use by the allies, and stores of coal and iron also are included.

In connection with the evacuation of the left bank of the Rhine it is provided that the allies shall hold the crossings of the river at Coblenz, Cologne and Mayence, together with bridgeheads and a 30-kilometer radius.

The right bank of the Rhine land, that occupied by the allies, is to become a neutral zone, and the bank held by the Germans is to be evacuated in 19 days. The armistice is for 30 days, but the President spoke of the war as "coming to an end."

German troops are to retire at once from any territory held by Russia, Roumania and Turkey before the war. The allied forces are to have access to the evacuated territory either thru Dantzig or by the River Vistula.

The unconditional surrender of all German forces in East Africa within one month is provided.

The repatriation within 14 days of the thousands of unfortunate civilians deported from France and Belgium is required.

German troops which have not left the invaded territories, which specifically includes Alsace-Lorraine, within 14 days become prisoners of war.

Freedom of access to the Baltic Sea, with power to occupy German forts in the Cattagat, is another provision.

The Germans also must reveal location of mines, poisoned wells and like agencies of destruction, and the allied blockade is to remain unchanged during the period of armistice.

All ports on the Black sea, occupied by Germans, are to be surrendered, and the Russian war vessels, recently taken by the German naval forces, also are to be surrendered to the allies.

The President made it plain that the nations which have overthrown the military masters of Germany will now attempt to guide the German people safely to the family of Nations of Democracy.

HUNTERS TAKE NOTICE

There has been no change made in the Game Laws of Kentucky recently. Some are under the impression that there has been some alterations made within the last year or so, but there has not, and they are virtually the same. No one has the privilege under the law of hunting off their own premises without first procuring a Hunters' License and the permission of the landlord to do so, and it is unlawful to shoot game out of season and also unlawful to sell, barter or trade any rabbits or parts of any rabbits between the 1st day of January and the 14th day of November, both days inclusive.

"KENTUCKY'S PRIDE" HEN SOLD FOR $2

Kentucky's Pride is the name of the hen bought for $2 at a pullet sale in Trigg county last winter by the Kentucky Experiment Station, which has laid 210 eggs since December 18 and has until December 18 before her year is up. The average Kentucky hen lays 60 eggs annually, and in order for a hen to be portable to her owner, she should lay 120 eggs a year. The champion hen of the state, Lady Walnut Hill, made 292 eggs in establishing her record. Kentucky's Pride is of utility stock, and her best months were March, when she laid twenty-four eggs and October when she laid twenty-two.

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

UNITED WAR WORK DRIVE TO SPEED UP

"The drive for funds for the United War Work fund will not stop", said Mr. C. A. Schroetter, District Secretary, when asked what effect the signing of the armistice would have on the drive.

We will have more need for funds than ever before. We cannot desert the boys that won this victory for us. Our boys will not come home for two or three years. They will have to clean up Russia and possibly restore quiet in Germany, where anarchy is rife.

Our boys will be the last of the Allies to be mustered out. The men in France, Belgium and England are worn out by four years of fighting. These men have their wrecked homes to rebuild.

Our boys have no place to go in their leisure hours. The Y. M. C. A., K. of C., and kindred organizations must furnish clean amusement for them.

The boys have earned everything we can give them. They must be brought back clean. Every man should double his subscription as a special Thanksgiving peace offering.

RAISING THE BAN

The people of this community are ready to support the health board in its most strenuous and persistent efforts to get rid of the epidemic, and it is hoped that the ban will not be withdrawn until community is safe. This may be inconvenient and burdensome but the public health is the great consideration. We may feel a little disappointed in not being able to go to church, shows, banquets, political meetings, but after all the deprivation has not been injurious, if we have devoted our time to self-inquiry and to finding our souls, which too often have wandered far away from their divine destiny. After a little vacation from the duties and excitements of life, we may return to them with a keener relish and a fairer purpose. Our nobler experience is not in having a good time but in living a good life. One of the great duties of life is to judge between the trivial and the real and combine them into a wholesome life.

THAT THANKSGIVING TURKEY

This is Thanksgiving month, and of course it is to be celebrated in due form and proper spirit. Though we have passed through much sorrow and fear there is much to be thankful for. We have been doing our duty bravely, it has cost a great deal, but that is what makes duty worth while. But in the social side of the coming day there is much to anticipate. Of course, we must not omit the Thanksgiving dinner. If we can't have a turkey there are many other things that are quite as good if we don't think of the turkey. But why not think of it? Why not save for it? Why not omit many foibles and follies and have a turkey, a small one possibly, on Thanksgiving? It is the best thing in all the glorious array of comestibles. We suppose the price will be high but the enjoyment will be higher; and how thankful a person must be when he sits down to a turkey dinner on Thanksgiving day. The anticipation is almost enough for us.

DRAFT BOARDS

There will be no result when the terms of peace are agreed upon, and that is the ending of the draft business. That has been a great industry since America entered the war. It has pursued its onerous labors with never an unfriendly criticism or an expression of lack of confidence. The draft has been a fair and honest service. But it did create a good deal of anxiety, and necessarily so, among those who were subject to the draft. Its decisions were watched with a good deal of interest, for they always carried with them the opening of a new career for the drafted wherever he was. One thing in favor of the drafts was that they were the methods of the patriotic spirit for putting down the Hun rebellion against the civilization of the world. Now they pass away, and though they were not a source of molestation, it is a relief to know their need is ended.

MORALE, THEY CALL IT, AND IT IS WINNING THE WAR

(By Bruce Barton)

Back from the line they came, their minds full of pictures that refused to fade.

They did not smile; they did not joke; they did not speak. Like men grown old in a single night they dropped heavily upon the ground, their eyes staring cold before them.

In a moment the hut door opened and a Secretary came out. His eye took in the situation at a glance. It was no time in the situation at a glance. It was no time for talk; he turned back into his hut again.

And suddenly a baseball rolled out and bounded on the ground; then came a bat; and gloves; and a catcher's mask.

A man who sat beside the hut picked up the ball and turned it idly in his hand as if it had been some foreign thing. Another man picked up the bat; a third played absently with a glove.

Then, like flame out of smoldering embers, a baseball game was born full fledged behind that little hut. The air was filled with laughter, and the loud shouts of men whose minds are cleansed of every worry, and whose hearts are free.

So peace came to those men who had been so burdened with their memories. And in the morning they were fresh—as men who had never fought.

They call it morale—the miracle that restores men's spirits and sends them back every morning fresh and confident.

You have today your chance to contribute to morale. It is a chance you must not miss.

For morale is winning the war. Subscribe liberally to the United War Work Campaign.

HERE'S WHERE THE COMBINE SMASHES US

School Books May Be Changed Because the Combine Is Not Making Enough Money.

It is possible that nearly a hundred per cent. change in textbooks used in the public and high schools may be made by the State Textbook Commission, which will be appointed in January by Gov. Stanley, although State Superintendent V. O. Gilbert does not believe it will be necessary. While the commission is empowered under the act of 1918, to change only 50 per cent. of the subjects every five years, the present contractors must submit bids not in excess of present prices, and many of them are complaining that as a result of war conditions since their bids were accepted in 1915, they are losing money. Their contracts run until 1920.

So far no bonds have been forfeited, but there has been difficulty in getting books. The contractors say they do not want to publish more than are needed, and have limited their output to the requirements estimated from time to time by the distributing agency. When the estimate has been short of the demand it has caused delays.

If the contractors decide that normal conditions will not be restored by 1920, they may be decline to bid for extension of their contracts, which would throw all the subjects involved open for action by the commission. Even then, if the number thus thrown open amounts to 50 per cent., or over, it may be the law will limit the commission to these subjects and require a continuance of existing contracts in other branches.

An entirely new Textbook Commission will be appointed in January by Gov. Stanley, one member from each of the seven Appellate districts and one from the University of Kentucky and each of the two Normal School faculties, with Gov. Stanley as ex-officio chairman and State Superintendent V. O. Gilbert ex-officio secretary. Gov. Stanley said today he has not begun to consider the make-up of the commission.

Many charges and counter-charges were handed back and forth at the session of the first commission, which was held behind closed doors; but no tangible evidence of influence or corruption ever developed from the accusations.

All the members, excepting the chairman, must be actively connected with school work in the State, and by changes of occupation or residence several members of the old commission are disqualified for reappointment. Judge Henry S. Barker, former president of the University of Kentucky; A. H. Hill, of Franklin, who is teaching in Texas; J. R. Johnson, representative of the Eastern State Normal, and J. E. Lanter, of Winchester, who are out of the schools, could not serve. L. E. Gregg, of Shelbyville, is at K. M. L. Lyndon, with F. H. Kerrick, who also is a member of the commission.

Other members are A. C. Burton, Western States Normal; L. E. Foster, Hopkinsville, and A. C. Collins, Covington.

INTERRED IN HOLLAND

London, November 11—4:45 a. m.—The arrival of William Hohenzollern the former German emperor, with his wife and eldest son, has caused excitement and much uneasiness among Dutch authorities and the public of that country, says a dispatch, the Telegraph from Rotterdam. It is unofficially stated that the refugees did not obtain authorization from Holland to enter the country and crossed the frontier in the neighborhood of Eysden because the Dutch neutrality guards were weak at that point. It is said that the Dutch government faces difficulty as to its treatment of the unwelcome visitors. Many people contend that William Hohenzollern and his eldest son are still German soldiers and must be interned. Others urge that they should be sent back to Germany. Others argue that they cannot be prevented visiting their old friend Count von Bentinck. It is reported that the Dutch frontier is completely open and many German officers are seeking refuge in Holland.

SPANISH "FLU" MIGHT BE CALLED CATARRHAL FEVER

Ottawa, Ont.—Canadian army medical officers say that the malady which first became epidemic in Spain and has since spread over a good part of Europe and America is not properly influenza, since the illness is of a very short duration and there is an absence of relapses, recurrences, or complications, and suggest that catarrhal fever is a better name for the disease. It is a question, however, whether that name is mean enough.

BOMBER PENS THRILLING TALE OF AN AIR RAID

Night Sortie Over German Airdrome Leaves One Hun Plane.

The following picturesque account of a night raid over a German airdrome has been written by a British bomber.

London—Night had fallen. My pilot and I stood near our machine on the aerodrome discussing the coming "show." A full moon shone in a cloudless sky and visibility was good, hence we were on the best of terms with ourselves and the night.

It was almost 11 by the clock when, with an engine running smoothly and giving good "revs," we "took off" into the night, fully loaded with bombs and ammunition.

Our target was a Hun aerodrome about thirty miles beyond the line, which, according to reports, was being used for night flying. We had carefully studied an aerial photograph of the aerodrome before starting, and noted that the boche, with his usual thoroughness, had scattered the hangars around the aerodrome—for safety.

After gaining height we struck a compass course for Hunland. Intermittent and not too numerous gun flashes told us that the infantry were having a fairly quiet time in the line. Here and there solitary Verey lights suddenly burst into brilliance and as quickly died away.

Evidently the boches are flying, too, for in the distance we note the flashing of a powerful lighthouse which serves as a guide to Hun airmen. Beyond the lighthouse a "pukka" firework display is in progress.

Apparently one of our unfortunate airmen is flying over a defended boche town, and a wonderful barrage round the peace is the result. Searchlights, "Archie" bursts, "flaming onions," vari-colored tracer bullets, and a new protechnic device, climbing corkscrew fashion—all these combined produce a remarkable and arresting spectacle, which can only be fully appreciated at a distance.

Now we are nearing the aerodrome. My pilot throttles down the engine and we gradually lose height. Here is the peculiar shaped wood; there the village and the cross roads, and near the cross roads the aerodrome. At no lights are visible. We are disappointed, when suddenly I spy a green light fired from the air. I point it out to my pilot.

"A boche machine!" he shouts excitedly. He is right, for the signal is answered from the ground. We steer clear of the aerodrome, fly beyond it and—wait. Our patience is rewarded. Suddenly the "L" landing lights are illuminated and two powerful search lights light up the ground. We glide nearer and nearer as the boche glides towards the lights.

We watched, excitedly. Lower, lower, lower. He "flattens out" and lands. The "L" lights and one searchlight are at once extinguished, while the other searchlight sweeps the grounds towards the hangar to show the airmen the way.

He "tattles" to the hangar and stops. We are above him now at 700 feet. Bang! Bang! Bang! Our bombs are gone—with what result? Rat-at-tat-tat! Hates! The tracer bullets are all around us. We fly along for a time, then swing round and approach the aerodrome again to search for results.

The machine is in bits, the hangar is damaged. I fire two hundred rounds of ammunition into the wreckage and we turn west—for home.

"One Hun less to bomb us," cheerily shouts my pilot through the speaking tube, and I gleefully answer "Yes."

New York—American precious stones for jewelry purposes bid fair to come into their own as a result of the war. Manufacturing jewelers have been compelled by the war conditions to use more and more such American gems as sapphires, garnets, opals, turquoise, tourmalines, and fresh water pearls.

HOW CRANBERRIES MAY BE USED TO ADVANTAGE

Are Valuable Food Because of the Iron and Acid They Contain.

"Cranberries are now in the markets and we can make as delightful sauces and jellies as we ever made without using any sugar at all," is the conservation message sent out today by Mrs. Morris Gifford, chairman of the Conservation Division of the Food Administration in Kentucky, to her lieutenants.

"Cranberries are always associated with Thanksgiving and Christmas, and this year many may hesitate to use them because of the scarcity of sugar." But they need not, because cranberries may be served without emptying the sugar bowl.

Mrs. Gifford recommends the following recipes, which have been tested by the Food Administration in kitchen and laboratory:

Cranberry Sauce

Cranberries, 1 quart.
Raisins, figs or coconut, 1 cup.
Water, 3 cups.
Sorghum or cane syrup, ½ cup.
Inspect and wash cranberries. Prepare raisins, cut in small pieces, and add to cranberries with water and ingredients, and cook until tender.

Cranberry Sauce

Cranberries, 1 quart.
Water, 3 cups.
Sorghum or cane syrup, ½ cup.
Cook cranberries with water and sweetening until soft, about 20 minutes.

Cranberry Jelly

Cranberries, 2 quarts.
Water, 1 quart.
Light syrup, 1 to 1½ cups.
Cook cranberries in the water 20 minutes. Put through a sieve. This amount should make about 1 quart of juice and pulp. Add sweetening and cook about 10 minutes, or until it will give a jelly. Turn into molds.

Cranberry-Apple Jelly

Apple juice, 1 pint.
Cranberry juice, 1 pint.
Sugar, ¾ cup.
Sorghum or syrup, 1½ cups.
Prepare apple juice as for apple jelly. Add prepared cranberry juice and boil 5 minutes. Add sweetening; boil until it gives the jelly test. Turn into glasses. A large proportion of cranberry may be used if desired.

Candied Cranberries

Cranberries, 1 cup.
Syrup, ½ cup.
Choose large red cranberries and prick each one three or four times. Drop them carefully into the boiling syrup and allow them to cook slowly for five or six minutes. Remove from fire and allow to stand overnight. Reheat and allow them to stand another night, if possible. Then while hot, remove the berries from the syrup and drop on well oiled paper or plate to dry. These may be used in the place of candied cherries for decorations.

Cranberries may be dried to extend their season. They are valuable in giving color to sauces and desserts. Add a few to puddings and sauces to improve flavor and color.

Because of the acid content of cranberries, sweeteners such as sorghum, cane or corn syrup may be used even more successfully than with other fruits. Cranberries may be combined with other fruits which are sweet, such as apples, figs and raisins, either to extend or modify the cranberry flavor or to add sweetness to it.

Cranberries are a valuable food because of the iron and acid they contain. Many like the acid flavor while others acquire a taste for it. But no matter in what form they are preferred, they may be made delicious without sugar.

BETTER STOCK IS BOOMING IN CALIFORNIA

The pure-bred live stock business is increasing in California, a State which the layman usually associates with choice fruits and record grain crops rather than with registered live stock. The first live stock show in the State will be held at San Francisco November 16 to 24, at which premiums worth $40,000 will be contested for by exhibitors of all classes of stock. More than 250 pure-bred beef cattle, 164 registered dairy animals, as well as 17 steers in the individual fat-ster class are already entered, while in the carload-lot class it is expected that six loads of cattle will compete. In addition the entries include 300 pure-bred hogs and 150 purebred sheep, together with several loads in the carload class.

SHRAPNEL GETS INITIAL BUT DIDN'T GET NUMBER

London—R. C. Hunter, Australian soldier, was wounded by a bit of shrapnel and sent back to Blighty. When they took the metal from his lungs the doctors found the letter H—the first of his surname—inscribed on it. "If it had been a bit bigger, it might have had my number as well," commented the soldier.

UNCEASING MISERY

Some Maysville Kidney Sufferers Get Little Rest or Comfort.

There is little sleep, little rest, little peace for many a sufferer from kidney trouble. Life is one continual round of pain. You can't rest at night when there's kidney backache. You suffer twinges and "stabs" of pain, annoying urinary disorders, lameness and nervousness. You can't be comfortable at work with darting pains and blinding dizzy spells. Neglect these ailments and serious troubles may follow. Begin Dosing Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of disorder. Thousands have testified to their merit.

Proof in Maysville testimony. John J. Bramel, bookkeeper, Walnut Street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been of great benefit to me and in fact, I attribute fourteen years of my life to them. It was in 1902 that I was suffering a great deal. After long use of Doan's Kidney Pills, I became well and had no bad effects for many years. Recently, however, I noticed my kidneys were not acting right and my system was generally weak. I knew it was a return of the trouble and I didn't lose any time in getting a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Chansler's Drug Store. They again gave me the same good results and I consider them a wonderful medicine."

Mr. Bramel is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. Bramel had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 40c all stores. MAKE EVERY OUNCE OF FOOD COUNT TO UTMOST

A Much Greater Burden Is Upon Us If Peace Comes at the Earlier Date Than Thought For.

Louisville, November 12 — Peace will make the food tasks of America, instead of lighter, a statement issued by the Educational Division of the Food Administration says. The statement follows:

"The sternest task yet set for the people of the United States, in the opinion of the highest authorities, is the shipment this crop year of 17 1/2 million tons of food. But this is the minimum amount which was based on the continuance of the war; the maximum demands increase day by day as additional territory is regained and additional thousands of people are liberated.

The coming of peace will not add to the demand of food to our supply. On the contrary, it will enormously increase our food obligations because it will allow us to reach with food the people of Poland, Rumania, Serbia, America, European Russia and others who are now without adequate food supply. The total number of these peoples has been estimated at 180,000,000, some of whom have partial resources and others of whom are now literally in a starving condition.

"While the end of the war will bring release of large stores of food in the southern hemisphere, principally in Australia and India, these added stores of food will not be sufficient to restore the starving people of Central and Eastern Europe to health and strength. These 180,000,000 will be in addition to the 120,000,000 in the Allied nations who are now and will be for quite a while dependent upon us for a large share of their food supplies.

"A tightening of the belt anew is necessary already; whatever is sent for the victims of war released from German bondage will be additional. The demands cannot be met by shifting from one food to another. All food must be saved. A surplus cannot be created by eating corn instead of wheat; the corn also is needed—we cannot dip very much into the supply of feed for animals, because it is in the same boat with bread grains.

"Relying on food supplies out of the ordinary will help some, but it won't solve the problem. Calculations show that 95 per cent. of our sustenance is from staples. We cannot make up the enormous deficit in staples from the fringe of food stuffs. The main reliance is always on staples and the main saving must be on staples.

"This is the basis underlying the new home card, which will soon be distributed irrespective of peace terms to serve as a daily reminder to the people of the pledge made in their name and with their assent to sustain

CORN SHUCKING PRICES FIXED FOR 18 COUNTIES

Richmond, Ky.—In order to settle disputes that have arisen between farmers and employes that have been shucking corn County Food Commissioner A. R. Burnam, Jr., has issued a notice that the following prices have been fixed by the Food Administration for eighteen Bluegrass counties:

For shucking shocks cut sixteen hills square, 25 cents; eighteen hills, 30 cents; twenty hills, 35 cents.

However, as the practice has prevailed here of paying by the barrel the Food Commissioner says:

"I took this matter up with the District Food Administrator and after consulting with him was directed to fix the price of shucking corn by the barrel at 35 cents a barrel.

"Any person paying more or less than this amount will be deemed violating the fair price set by the County Food Administrator and the county chairman of National Defense. This applies both to farmers and employes."

Mrs. A. F. Respass arrived today for a visit with her mother, Mrs. John W. Watson.

The Allies during the war in health, comfort and courage, and to send help quickly after the war to those whose need is greater than ours.

"On the face of it, the thing is impossible. To send from the same stock of food as last year more than half as much again—and we thought we were saving last year! What we are asked to do is to get down to the war basis—the same basis on which the people of Europe have sustained themselves for four years, though without privation.

"It can be done. Even in Belgium where the supplies of the Relief Commission have been the only resource, the health of the population has been maintained; the death rate shows it. We in America have larger resources, a more varied diet; it will not be necessary for us to depend on a daily dole of stunted rations. It is necessary to make every ounce of food count, every morsel contribute its last bit of nourishment. But we will do it. The Educational Division is confident that the people of Kentucky, who cooperated in food saving so effectively to make victory certain, will now under the able leadership of Federal Food Administrator Fred M. Sackett continue to cooperate until victory is complete."

RECTORTOWN NEWS

Mr. James A. Cooper of near Rectortown, received a letter from a matron of a hospital in France stating his son, Private Thomas P. Cooper, had received a desperate wound in the head by a shell on October 12th. One week later a letter came stating his son's death on October 20th, and had been buried there with the regular military honors. In the same mail the ring, that he had worn for years, came to Mr. Cooper.

Private Cooper was in the first quota sent from Mason county and was in the service thirteen months. He passed his 29th birthday August 5th last.

He was one of our best boys, and lived an honorable life. He was much admired for his manly qualities and will be greatly missed in our community.

A Daughter of France

Featuring VIRGINIA PEARSON

This great picture was shown at the matinee the day the ban was put on by the Health Board, those who saw it pronounced it one of the best war pictures ever brought here.

It tells a story of a brave French girl who fights for France and to save her honor. See the treatment of the French women by the Invading Huns and the terrific fighting in the front line trenches, the destruction of the French Homes.
